HAMBURG

INSPIRATION HAMBURG

Hamburg, Germany's second biggest city after Berlin, is becoming more and more a tourist attraction; also German people choose Hamburg as their favorite city. The history and the aspect of Hamburg are dominated by ships and merchants. The harbor - one of the biggest in the world – made Hamburg an open city that is now connected to the whole world. The town hall is the best expression of its rich and powerful past: 646 rooms, more than at Buckingham Palace in London.

Cozy and well off, Hamburg is among the liveliest cities in Germany. Elegant streets invite the tourists to have a walk or do some shopping.

It is also a green city, wherever your eyes take you, you can find green spaces and water channels. A boat trip through the harbor should be a part of your visit.

ALL SENSES TOUR

The Speicherstadt is the world's largest warehouse complex located in the port of Hamburg, extends over 26 hectares and comprises of 17 building complexes, each seven to eight stories high, with more than 300,000 square meters of storage area. For over a hundred years, these warehouses have held high-value goods such as coffee, tea, cocoa, spices, tobacco, and, in recent decades, oriental carpets.. Since 1991, the unique district has been given historic monument protection. Just recently, it was awarded the status of UNESCO World Heritage Site.

During the all senses ´tour the guests will experience the history of the warehouse district by all senses, they will smell and taste coffee and tea in the ancient buildings, learn about their history and do most of the tour walking through the quarter whose Neo-Gothic red-brick outer facade features richly ornamented brickwork, alcoves, and glazed terra cotta ornaments that bear witness to the city's economic prosperity.

HARBOUR TOUR FEAT: “THE FISCHBRÖTCHEN”

This trip in a small boat called “Barkasse”, a wooden barge, will comfortably navigate through the harbour which is famous for its very large container ships and terminals. A guide will moderate the tour and talk about the warehouse district and the new Harbor City.

As a very special and regional treat, guests will have the opportunity to try the famous Fischbrötchen, which is a roll with a pickled herring. Something that you can't miss during your stay in the north!

BLANKENESE TOUR

This special tour gives guests the opportunity to see the city from another point of view. The district of Blankenese, a former fishing village, is now one of Hamburg's most privileged quarters with mansions and villas surrounded by enchanted gardens and full of history. It has also become a popular visitor destination.

During the tour, guests will see the neo gothic church built in 1896 and continue to ascend to perhaps the best view of the valley and Elbe River. The quarter is characterized by its numerous steps which meander through the entire area with its hills and stunning views.

As a special highlight they will have a coffee stop in a cozy café for a coffee or tea.

ART & GALLERY TOUR

Hamburg's gallery scene is vibrant and dynamic. Thanks to its creative atmosphere, Hamburg attracts many artists and gallery owners from all over the world. Most of the city's art galleries – from the upscale to the funky - are located in same area.

From this big pot we will pick the best and interesting ones for our guests and they will explore Hamburg's Art Scene together with our guides.

Of course we will also arrange a Meet&Greet with an artist in his gallery.

One group can have 15 guests maximum per tour.

BEATLESTOUR

Come and join a time travel through the years when Hamburg became a home for The Beatles.

We will get exclusive information from people that lived in the 50ies and 60ies in the district of St Pauli where the Beatles hype took place.

There is no way to get more authenticity during a Beatles tour through the real birthplace of the Beatles.

As a highlight we will have a fotoshooting with all the props you need to look like a real Beatles-member.

HAFENCITY MEETS ELBPHILHARMONIE

Hafencity is a project where the former free port is being revitalized with new hotels, shops, office buildings, and residential areas. The project is considered the largest urban redevelopment project in Europe by landmass.

When completely developed, the HafenCity area will be home to about 12,000 people and the workplace of 40,000 people. The prospect for completion is not tied down, but will probably be between 2025 and 2030.

The focus of the tour will be the new architecture that changed Hamburg's skyline in the past years, especially with the highlight – the Elbphilharmonie concert hall that has been opened only in 2017.

OTTENSEN – THE HIDDEN PLACES

Once Ottensen used to be an industrial location in Hamburg. Nowadays the quarter is one of the most attractive neighborhoods of the city.

Its diversity – a mixture of renovated old buildings, cafés, restaurants, green parks and access to the river Elbe – attracts people from all parts of the country.

It is not by chance that the district is called „Little Paris“. We want to walk through the narrow streets and explore the district and meet one of the real Hamburgers who lives there – he will tell stunning stories from the past and dive with us into his actual everyday life in this beautiful quarter.

SHOPPINGTOUR

Discover the trendy areas of Hamburg, where you can find innovative and high-end design and fashion that you cannot find on the regular high street.

For our design and shopping tour, our guide will lead the group to cute little boutique stores, an interesting variety of underground stores, independent galleries speckled in between stores, as well as more famous concept stores selling current labels. As a special highlight, guests can do a tour into the world of perfume and do a perfume “tasting” in one of Hamburgs most trendy shops

CASUAL DINNER

HENSSLERS KITCHEN

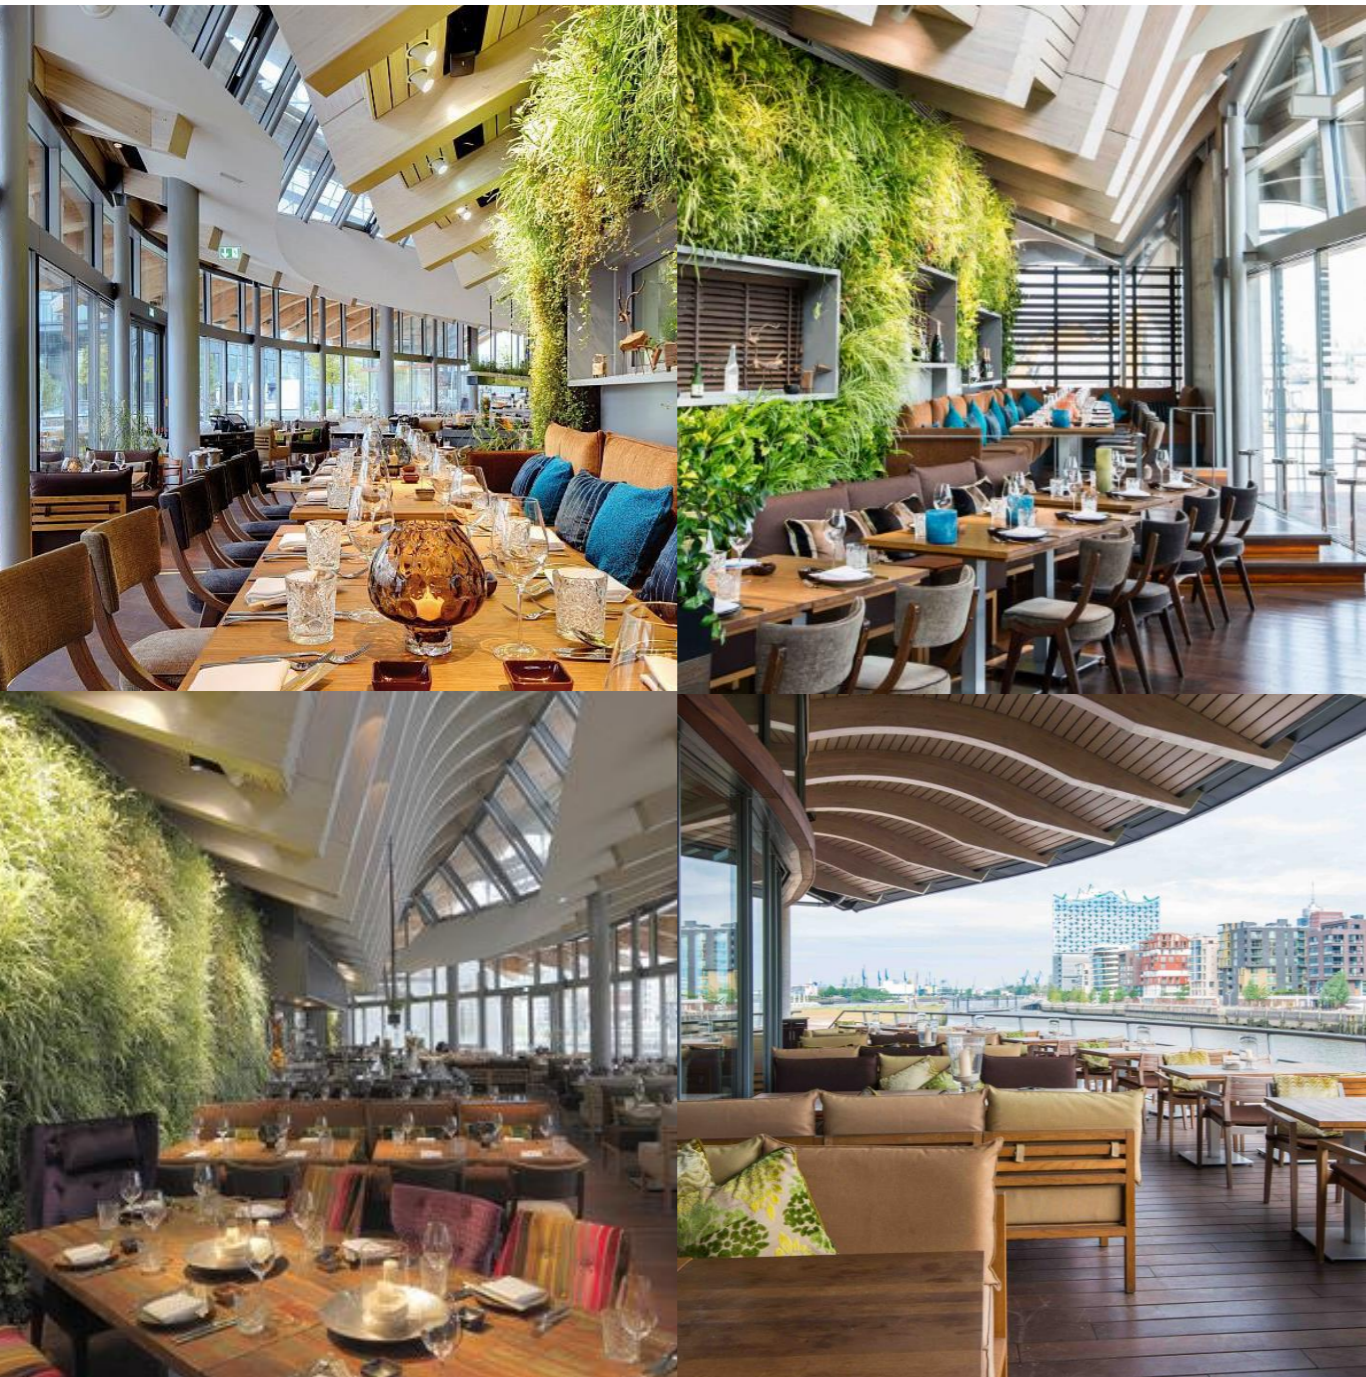

The renowned chef and TV personality Steffen Henssler is somewhat of a German celebrity. With his energetic and fiery character he has established a brand with a select few eateries in Hamburg.

The unassuming spacious glass building, situated directly on the harbor is conveniently close to the fish markets. Here guests get to enjoy Henssler's famous "Cuisine Pacifique" - traditional Japanese cuisine paired with contemporary, innovative sushi creations inspired by California.

The menu boasts less meat and more fish, fresh vegetables and other quality ingredients that bridge culinary creativity and the ultimate dining experience.

COAST

The restaurant Coast by East, was opened in 2012 to create an unique experience in terms of gastronomy and architecture, with an innovative roof that recalls the wings of a seagull.

The restaurant is on the first floor overlooking the harbor, with a view of the Philharmonic. Guests will dine in the green and bright atmosphere: some of the walls are covered by plants in sign of the Urban Gardening trend.

This restaurant is perfect for a group lunch – the Asian fusion dishes are served family style and are prepared in the partly open kitchen for guests to see.

GALA DINNER

SÜLLBERG

The district of Blankenese, a former fishing village, is now one of Hamburg's most privileged districts with mansions and villas surrounded by enchanted gardens and full of history.

With a view over the river Elbe, an event at the ballroom "Bellevue" on the Süllberg is always a highlight.

Great efforts during a renovation were made to preserve the history and original Art Nouveau architecture that gives your event that special atmosphere from the past with all the pleasures from the present time.

In the main room of the venue, we would love to realize a very classical Gala Dinner at round tables as the final highlight of the group.

PANORAMADECK

You want a dinner with a view? Then this is the perfect location for your event! It is the highest exclusive event location of Hamburg and is at the same time in the middle of the city.

On the 23rd floor of the Emporio skyscraper you will find a real gem: large windows guarantee a 360° views over the whole city, including the Alster, the City Centre and the harbor.

ELBDECK

The Elbdeck, located between the Speicherstadt and Hafencity, is an exclusive venue that boasts a glass façade with an unparalleled view of the harbor.

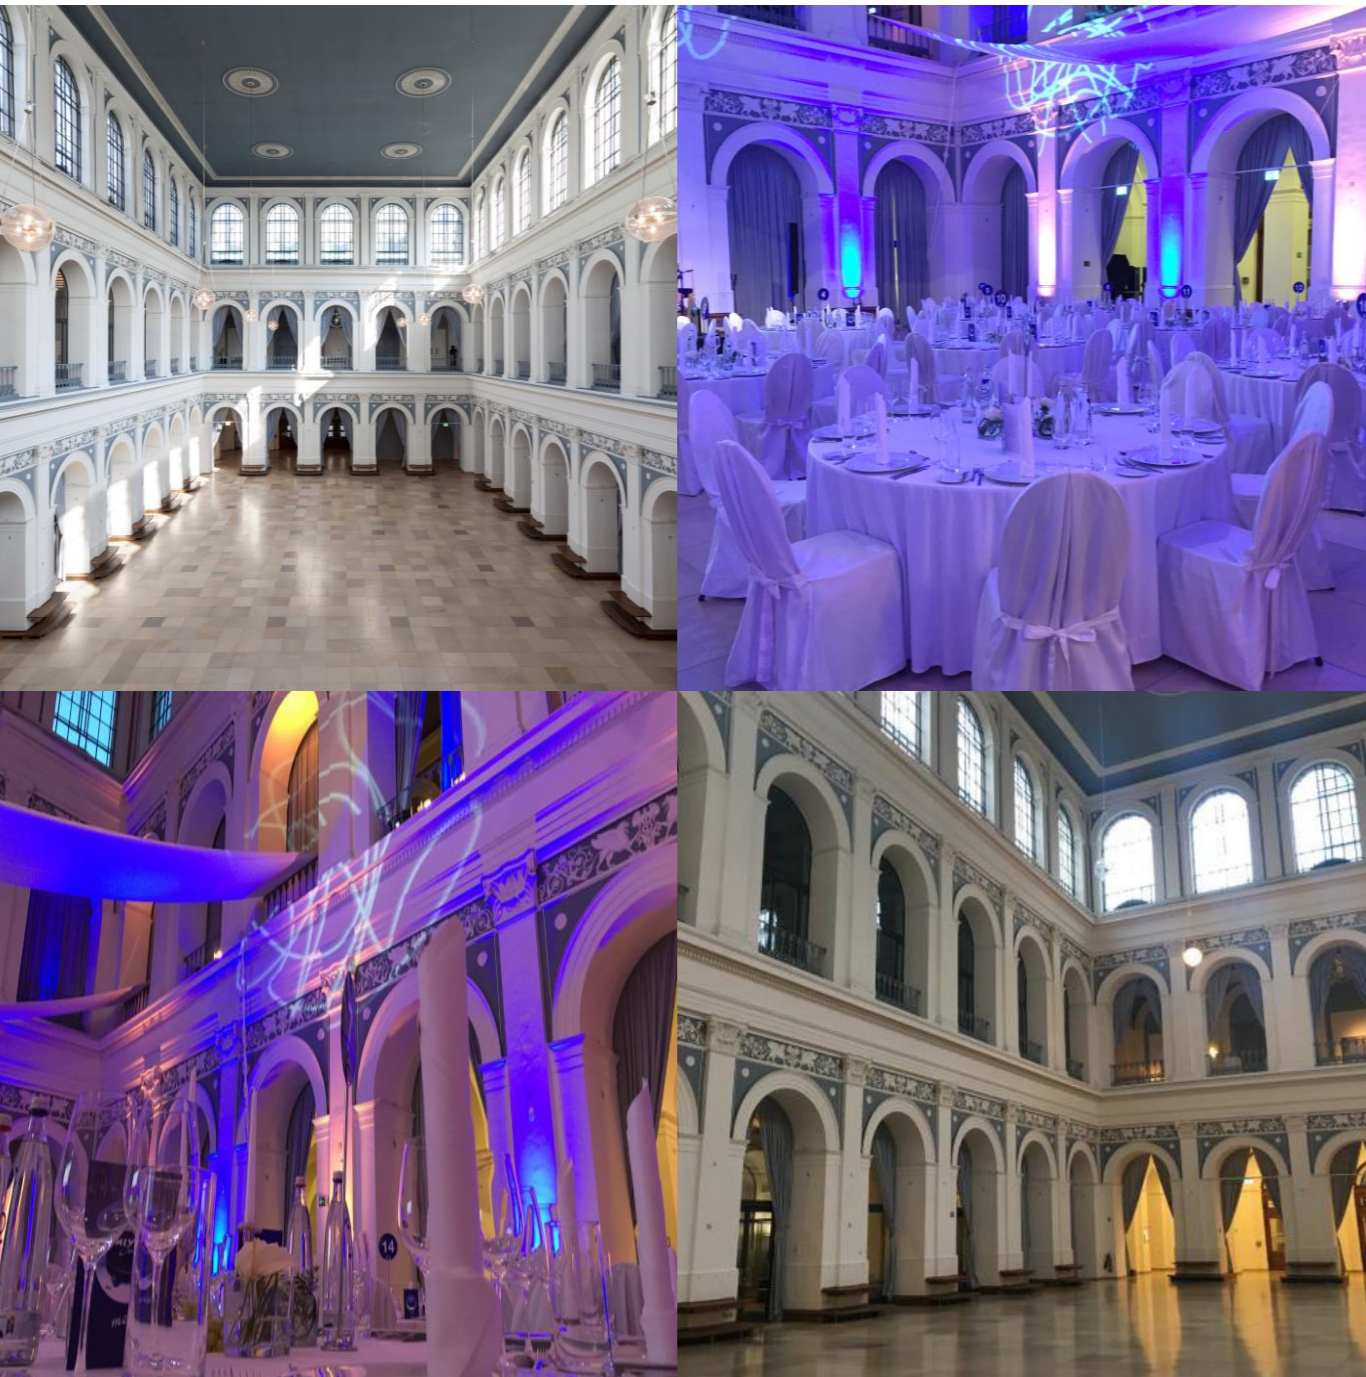

Its light and airy rooms have an elegant décor.

The Elbdeck also features a spacious terrace overlooking the harbor that allows guests to fully experience this special location.

It is a wonderful venue both during the day and at night. It offers modern sound, catering, stages and projection technology.

BÖRSENSAAL

The Hamburg Chamber of Commerce – „Handelskammer Hamburg“ – is the market place and traditional meeting point of the merchants' guide.

It is located at the Adolphsplatz and resides in the classical stock exchange, one of the most beautiful buildings in the city. The chamber consists of two great exchange halls – „Börsensäle“ – and six conference rooms of different sizes.

The décor boasts beautiful high walls which give this unique event space an irresistible charm.
