Plunder the enticing shops, set in cobble-stoned alleys. Explore its jasmine-scented lanes, lined with old wooden Ottoman balconies.

Narrow cobble lanes packed with shops spilling out their merchandise of trinkets and carpets are a delightful feature of Kas. Even during the hottest part of the day, the old Turkish houses, their rickety wooden balconies overhanging with bushes of flowering bougainvillea, provide shade enough to browse.

The busy harbour is lined with restaurants, while an ancient stone sarcophagus, tucked in a quiet backstreet, is both a delightful discovery and a reminder of Kas' rich history.

GOCEK

Villa Carmina

Bobbing bowsprits, busy bistros, and bustling shops. On the curve of the Mediterranean coastline which runs from Dalaman to Kas lies Gocek, it is only 20 minutes from the airport - so you can relax into your holiday almost immediately after arriving in Turkey.

Here are pleasant, well-kept seafront bars and bistros, smart boutiques, well-stocked little shops and a clean and pretty market square.

A walk along the seafront, with the coastal hills rising all around you and bowsprits of all kinds bobbing maritime greeting to you, is a delight. Gocek bay is populated with a family of twelve picturesque islands.

Many have sandy beaches, some with delightful restaurants and some are historically significant, you could visit Cleopatra's Island, said to have been a gift to the Egyptian beauty from Mark Antony. The ruins of her "Haman" - Turkish bath - are still to be found there and, indeed, bathed in.

BODRUM

Villa Celeste

The New York Times called Turkbuku the "Saint-Tropez of Turkey." Certainly, it's a place that has attracted a wealth of well-heeled residents and visitors.

Turkbuku is one of the Bodrum's best-kept secrets with its array of exclusive hotels, excellent sea-front restaurants situated on wooden piers and trendy bars that burst into life after sunset. By day, its beach-front cafes and hotels are havens for the jet-set, with fantastic views of the beautiful bay and wooden platforms dotted with sophisticated sun-loungers from which to swim.

KALKAN

Likya Gardens Hotel

Kalkan is a lovely, small town with an abundance of charm perched on a hilltop overlooking a tiny bay. It has quaint, traditional, white-washed houses with shuttered windows, and balconies with garlands of flowers hanging to the streets below. Kalkan is the ultimate for a peaceful holiday. Narrow, winding streets lined with souvenir shops lead down to the charming marina. Every morning boats are busy taking tourists to one of the nearby beaches or small bays. As the sun sets, Kalkan style is to go up to the rooftop terraces for a relaxing drink before dinner taking in the comings and goings of the yachts in the bay, the business of the marina and the panoramic view.

Located in the east of Kalkan is the Kaputaş Beach with its strand measuring 60 m long by 20 m wide between the sheer falez rocks, is the best known natural bay formed by the Toros Mountains running perpendicular to the shore. In the east of the beach is the Blue Cave, having a pebbly strand and formed of sea erosion beneath the falez rocks. The cave is accessible by touristic boats.

Kaputas Beach

Kaputas Beach is a long beach between Kaş and Kalkan in southwestern Turkey. It is situated at a distance of 20 km from Kaş and 7 km from Kalkan, at a point where an extremely narrow valley towered by steep cliffs and forests joins the sea shore in the cove of the same name as the beach (Kaputaş). The beach is quite popular among visitors to the region due to its untouched natural beauty commanded by a view from the heights traversed by Kaş-Kalkan road.

Patara beach is one of the largest and most beautiful beaches near the ancient city of Patara in Turkey. At 12 kilometres, Patara beach is the longest in its region and sometimes reaches a width of 200-300 metres. The beach has soft sand and shallow sea. It is one of the places that sea turtles leave their eggs. (20 minutes from Kalkan)

İztuzu Beach is a 4.5 km long beach near Dalyan. The beach is a narrow spit of land, which forms a natural barrier between the fresh water delta of the Dalyan river and the Mediterranean. (30 minutes from GOCEK)

Oludeniz Beach remains one of the most photographed beaches on the Mediterranean. It has a secluded sandy bay at the mouth of Ölüdeniz, on a blue lagoon. (1 hour from GOCEK)

Private cars and taxis are available during all day for transfer.

Daily Tours

Saklıkent&Patara - Second largest canyon in Europe. The Canyon is 300 meters deep and 18 km long, resulting from the abrasion of the rocks by flowing waters over thousands of years. As the level of water rises during winter months, visitors can enter the canyon only in the summer. Saklıkent means "hidden city" in Turkish. KAS /KALKAN/ GOCEK

Private Gulets

Serenity 86

Serenity 70

Serenity Gulets are cross between a motor yacht and a traditional wooden goulette, easily adding up to your holiday's serene highlight. When serenities dictates your days, when everything is taken care of (from daily linen change to freshly caught delicacies prepared onboard), you can indulge in the luxury of doing absolutely nothing. We can merely make some suggestions. Bask on sunloungers on the timber foredeck as the ancient shores slip past. Watch spectacular sunsets over glasses of chilled wine. Get active with water-skis, wakeboards and a snorkel. Explore remote beaches accessible only via a small boat. Do whatever is after your fancy but allow Serenities to take over.

The Brochure

We take every reasonable step to ensure the accuracy of our brochure and are confident that all the information is correct at the time of going to print. However, during the validity of the brochure, certain facilities or services may change. There may be times especially during the low season, when certain advertised facilities and amenities - swimming pools, shops, restaurants, bars, etc. - may not be fully operational due to lack of demand or prevailing local circumstances. ODS TURKEY cannot be held responsible for such situations that are outside a tour operator's control although clients will be advised of these prior to departure, whenever possible. Should such an event occur during your holiday, however, our local representatives at the resorts will do their best to rectify the situation.

Accommodation

Accommodation in all hotels, whatever the grading, is based on the standard room category, unless otherwise stated. The bed configuration remains at the discretion of the hotel and whilst special requests, such as that for either double or twin beds will be forwarded to the hotel, they cannot be fully guaranteed. Please note that when an additional bed is requested e.g. a third person sharing a room, it is a foldaway style. Small and friendly accommodation may often be better in our opinion than a large international hotel. Price is a general indication of standard although we have in most cases negotiated very good rates. It is important not to base your expectations on experiences of another country or destination.

Check In/Check Out Times

Generally rooms and cabins will be available for occupation between noon and 3 pm and should be vacated before noon irrespective of your arrival and departure times, unless we have stated otherwise. Sometimes it is possible to arrange late check-out subject to availability and extra cost.

Views

Rooms may be partly blocked by trees or buildings and it should be noted that a view cannot be guaranteed as completely unobstructed. The view may be obtained from the accommodation or its balcony, patio, terrace or garden.

Air-Conditioning

It is at the discretion of the hotel management so may be limited to certain times of the year.

Villas

Gas, electricity, water and heating are included within the cost of your holiday. Linen is normally changed twice weekly.

Delays

If you experience a flight delay it is unlikely that the hotel will make a refund for any unused accommodation and the airline concerned will not normally accept any financial responsibility for lost time during your holiday. ODS TURKEY cannot be held responsible for any delays that occur during your holidays, but it may be possible for you to claim from your holiday insurance when you return to the UK.

Holiday Documentation

All clients are responsible for ensuring that they have a valid passport and must obtain visas where applicable.

Vaccinations

There are no compulsory inoculations required to enter Turkey but you should check with your GP for up to the minute information.

Photographs

Photographs used give an overall impression of the accommodation or resort areas rather than to be specific. For example an item of furniture that appears in the photograph may have been removed from the accommodation.
